

New Invensys Operations Management Website now online

Contributed by Newswire

Invensys Operations Management has launched a new website to demonstrate how the combined capabilities of its eight brands – Avantis, Eurotherm, Foxboro, IMServ, InFusion, SimSci-Esscor, Triconex, and Wonderware – align to help clients.

Invensys Operations Management offers an holistic and cost-effective way to optimize the business impact of operation's performance and overall profitability.

This new website has been designed as a single front-end for easy access to the company's full breadth of industry capabilities, solutions, consulting & services and products offerings.
